

Intellectual Property

Intellectual Property Law is practiced in a wide range of firms in Ohio. Depending on your level of expertise, you have several avenues to follow in patent law including becoming a patent examiner, trademark attorney, copyright attorney, licensing attorney or patent litigator. You may take the patent bar to become a patent agent, able to work for many patent firms while you still are earning your J.D. to become a patent lawyer. Other areas of practice that are often over-looked include the entertainment/sports/media field and technology fields in development and management including the burgeoning biomedical field in Cleveland.

The Cleveland-Marshall Law Library staff has gathered together their resources in the library on Intellectual Property at
