

Cleveland-Marshall College of Law Library Faculty Current Awareness Bulletin October/November 2000

The Faculty Current Awareness Bulletin is published bi-monthly by the Cleveland-Marshall Law School Library for the faculty and staff of the Law School. The Bulletin contains selected announcements of symposia, conferences, requests for articles and requests for research proposals. If you have any questions concerning the material which appears in the Bulletin, or any suggestions on the type of material you would like to see included in the Bulletin, please contact Michael Slinger, Law Library Director at (216) 687-3547, or Leslie A. Pardo, Circulation and Faculty Services Librarian at (216) 687-6885. Additional information and some registration forms may be obtained by contacting Leslie A. Pardo.

SYMPOSIA AND CONFERENCES

The American Society for Legal History Annual Meeting will be held from October 19-21, 2000 in Princeton, New Jersey. For information, contact: dnieman@bgnet.bgsu.edu

The Society of American Law Teachers and New York University School of Law will host a conference on "Teaching, Testing, and the Politics of Legal Education in the 21st Century" from October 20-21, 2000 at New York University School of Law. For registration and program information, contact Carol L. Chomsky. e-mail choms001@maroon.tc.umn.edu

The Association of American Law Schools will hold a Workshop on Human Rights: Teaching and Scholarship, New Issues, New Approaches from October 26-28, 2000 in Alexandria, Virginia For registration and other information, consult the web site: www.aals.org

The Northwestern School of Law, Lewis & Clark College will host the Law and Entrepreneurship Research Conference from October 20-21, 2000 in Portland, Oregon. For more information contact: dgellis@lclark.edu

The National Association of Counsel for Children is sponsoring a major national children's law conference on November 2, 2000. NACC conferences are designed for professionals from the fields of law, medicine, social work and education, and the program focus is the practice of children's law through interdisciplinary training and education. For more information please visit their website at <http://www.naccchildlaw.org/programs/training.htm>

Washington University in St. Louis School of Law's Center for Interdisciplinary Studies will hold its inaugural program on Norms and the Law during 2000-01. This year-long program will have five parts: three symposia during the Fall semester, a conference in the Spring semester, and a readings course for law students. The papers presented at the Spring conference will be published as a book. For more information please view the following website:

<http://ls.wustl.edu/Whatsnew/normsconf.html>

The AALS Faculty Recruitment Conference will be held November 2-4, 2000 in Washington, D.C. For more information contact: aals@aals.org

Washington University in St. Louis School of Law's Institute for Global Legal Studies will hold its Grand Inaugural Event: "The United Nations and the Protection of Human Rights" from November 17-18, 2000. Keynote speakers will include Judge Patricia Wald of the UN International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia, who will deliver the Washington University School of Law annual Tyrrell Williams Lecture; Justice Richard Goldstone of the Constitutional Court of South Africa, formerly chief prosecutor of the International Criminal Tribunals for the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda; Dr. Francis Deng, formerly Sudan's ambassador to the United States and currently the UN Secretary General's Representative for Internally Displaced Persons; and Ambassador Aida González Martínez of Mexico, the Chairperson of the UN Committee for the Elimination of Discrimination against Women. For more information please see their website at <http://ls.wustl.edu/Whatsnew/unhuman.html>

Jointly Sponsored by the Regional Medical Education Department, The American Society of Law, and Medicine & Ethics, and the Midwest Bioethics Center, End-of-Life Decision Making: What have we learned since Cruzan? will be presented from November 17-18, 2000 in Kansas City, Missouri. This two day program is geared to legal counsel, risk managers and health care professionals. The conference will address the legal concerns around end-of-life care including pain management, surrogacy and guardianship problems, patient and family advocacy, state and federal responses, and criminal and civil law issues. For more information please visit the conference website at <http://aslme.org/conferences/registration/mbc/location.html>

The Association of American Law Schools is sponsoring the Nationwide Equal Justice Project, Pursing Equal Justice: Law Schools and the Provision of Legal Services. The project is a series of colloquia to be held at law schools throughout the country from September 2000-March 2001. For complete details about each of the colloquia visit the following website: <http://www.aals.org/equaljustice/>

CALL FOR PAPERS, PROPOSALS, AND GRANTS

BIOETHICS will publish in 2001 a special issue on Current Controversies in International Research Ethics. The deadline for submissions to this issue is October 31, 2000. Prospective authors are advised to contact the Editors Ruth Chadwick at e-mail r.chadwick@uclan.ac.uk or Udo Schuklenk at e-mail udo.schuklenk@arts.monash.edu.au

The Eighth International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law will take place on May 21-25, 2001 in St. Louis, MO. Authors are invited to submit papers on topics including but not limited to legal knowledge-based systems; case-based legal reasoning; computational models of legal reasoning; intelligent legal tutoring systems. The deadline for paper submissions is January 12, 2001. For submission dates and details, consult their web site:

www.cs.wustl.edu/icail2001

The American University Law Review is accepting articles for possible publication. This journal publishes articles on a broad range of topics, including healthcare, environmental law, securities, habeas corpus and the law of the Federal Circuit. For information about submissions, send an e-mail message to Mark H. Allenbaugh, American University, Washington College of Law: Allnbaugh@aol.com

The Stanford Technology Law Review (STLR) publishes articles, book reviews, and working papers within the intersection of law, policy, and science/technology. Please forward materials to: Submissions Department, Stanford Technology Law Review, Stanford Law School, Crown Quadrangle, Stanford, CA 94305-8610. For Submissions via e-mail attachment, or for more information, contact: Duane Pozza, e-mail: dpozza@leland.stanford.edu Please visit their website at the following: http://stlr.stanford.edu/STLR/Core_Page/Submissions/index.htm

Voir Dire, a quarterly publication of the American Board of Trial Advocates invites articles concerning the civil justice and/or jury systems or perspectives on other issues facing trial lawyers. For information, contact: Daphne A. Burns, Editor, Voir Dire, American Board of Trial Advocates, c/o Haight, Brown & Bonesteel, 1620 26th Street, Suite 4000N, Santa Monica, CA 90404 Ph: (310) 449-6000 e-mail: burnsd@hbblaw.com.

The Institute for Law School Teaching presents its Eighth Annual Summer Conference: Assessment, Feedback, and Evaluation from July 13-14, 2001. The Institute for Law School Teaching invites proposals for conference workshops on assessment, feedback, and evaluation of students and teachers. The Institute for Law School Teaching is committed to improving the quality of teaching and learning in law school. The Institute's annual summer conferences provide a forum for dedicated teachers to share with colleagues innovative ideas and effective methods for legal education. For more information please contact Paula Prather, Program Coordinator, Institute for Law School Teaching, Gonzaga University School of Law, Box 3528, Spokane, WA 99220-3528. e-mail: pprather@lawschool.gonzaga.edu Ph: 509-323-3740 Fax:: 509-323-5840 web site: <http://www.law.gonzaga.edu/ILST/ILST.htm>

The Pittsburgh Journal of Technology Law and Policy is now accepting submissions for publication both in print and on their World Wide Web forum. Published articles will focus on the changing landscape of technology law and technology policy, and the influence these developing fields have on legislation, judicial procedure, and legal and business practices. For more information please contact: The Pittsburgh Journal of Technology Law and Policy, 3900 Forbes Avenue Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15260. Ph: (412) 648-1347 Fax: (801) 650-5876 e-mail: editorinchief@pittsburghjournal.org web site: <http://www.pittsburghjournal.org/>
The University of Hawaii ASIAN-PACIFIC LAW & POLICY JOURNAL (APLPJ)

welcomes original, unpublished papers from graduate and law students, academic experts, and practitioners for its next issue. The APLPJ also welcomes translations of articles or recently enacted or promulgated laws. Please address all submissions and other correspondences to: ASIAN-PACIFIC LAW & POLICY JOURNAL, William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawaii, 2515 Dole Street, RM 257, Honolulu, HI 96822. Ph: (808) 956-8895 Fax: (808) 956-6402 e-mail: aplpi@hawaii.edu web site: <http://www.hawaii.edu/aplpj/>

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

FirstGov™ is an official United States Government website consolidating some 20,000 separate Federal websites FirstGov provides the public with easy, one-stop access to all online U.S. Federal Government resources. FirstGov is a Project of the President's Management Council and is managed by the FirstGov Team. For more information contact: FirstGov c/o GSA, 1800 F Street, N.W. Room 5240, Washington, D.C. 20405-0002 Please visit their website at: <http://www.firstgov.gov/index.html>

The U. S. Supreme Court inaugurated a new web site on April 17, 2000. The site's features include biographies of the justices, information about the court's rules and procedures, and opinions from the current term. You may visit their website at the following: www.supremecourtus.gov.

The ABA's Supreme Court Preview draws upon expert writers and the official briefs filed with the Court to provide an accurate, plain English explanation of the issues, facts, background and significance of every case before oral argument. You may visit the website at the following: <http://www.abanet.org/publiced/preview/home.html>

The National Center For State Courts provides links to state court, federal court and international court web sites at www.ncsc.dni.us The NCSC Publications Catalog is also listed on its web site.

The University Law Review Project offers full-text searching of law journals on the Internet at: www.lawreview.org

The New England Law Library Consortium(NELLCO) Resource Sharing Database provides access to a variety of research materials from several law libraries. Materials included in its Legal Resources database include research guides and bibliographies. Consult NELLCO's web site at: www.nellco.org Please click on Legal Resources.

The National Institute for Trial Advocacy's (NITA) mission is to provide training in legal advocacy skills and techniques for resolving legal disputes and to foster professionally responsible behavior emphasizing ethics, candor, civility, and judicial economy. To achieve its mission, NITA uses various teaching methods, programs, faculty, and materials. They have a web site listing CLE courses they offer and a listing of the types of reference books, case files, and audio/video materials they have available, as well, as information about NITA. You may visit their web site at: <http://www.nita.org/>

The American Association of Law Schools (AALS) calendar can be viewed at the following web site: <http://www.aals.org/aalscal.html>

The American Bar Association's Events and Education web site lists a calendar of National Institutes, Satellite Seminars, TeleConferences, and On-Line Seminars and a full range of continuing legal education programs, including live conference-style programs, telephone seminars, national telecasts, online seminars, videotapes, audiotapes, and course materials. You may visit their web site at: <http://www.abanet.org/events.html>

The American Law Institute-American Bar Association Committee on Continuing Professional Education, ALI-ABA, providers of continuing legal education in the United States since 1947, offers members of the profession a comprehensive curriculum of post-admission legal education -- live courses, course materials, video and audio tapes, satellite broadcasts, books, computer disks, and magazines, etc. You may visit their web site at: <http://www.ali-aba.org/>

The Ohio CLE Institute, a non-profit organization, was created as a tripartite entity in 1960 by The Ohio State University, the Ohio State Bar Association and the Ohio State Bar Foundation "in furthering a joint program of legal research and continuing legal education with the College of Law." The mission statement for the Institute includes: to provide quality educational programs and services to Ohio attorneys, judges and related professionals at the lowest practical cost. You may visit their web site at: <http://www.ohiocle.org/>

JURIST: "The Law Professors' Network," collects law professors' web based home pages, course pages, resource pages and online articles (both "pre prints" and "post prints") and for the first time makes them conveniently accessible to other law professors, lawyers, and law students, as well as to the public at large. JURIST also offers listings for the Web sites of major professional and legal associations, directories of law review and law school home pages, pointers to law listservs, access to a law dedicated search engine, direct email connections to other legal academics in the US and abroad. JURIST is continually under development, so updated information and suggestions for new links are welcome. Bernard Hibbitts is the web master for JURIST. He is the Dean for Communications & Information Technology and Professor of Law at the University of Pittsburgh School of Law. e-mail: Hibbitts@law.pitt.edu web site: <http://jurist.law.pitt.edu/>

Prepared by Leslie A. Pardo, Circulation & Faculty Services Librarian
If you have questions, comments, or suggestions, please contact me at:
leslie.pardo@law.csuohio.edu