OPENING/CLOSING DATES: The Staff Attorney's Office is accepting applications for staff attorney positions that, subject to the availability of funds, will start throughout 2012.

AREA OF CONSIDERATION: All Sources–Nationwide

The Staff Attorney's Office is a central legal staff, serving the court at large rather than individual judges. The office has over sixty attorneys, including eight career supervisory staff attorneys and approximately fifty staff attorneys who serve on staggered two-year terms. The principal task of the office is to assist in the disposition of appeals through the preparation of legal memoranda. The types of cases the office presently handles include (1) direct criminal appeals involving sentencing guidelines and guilt/innocence issues, (2) all pro se appeals, including collateral attacks on criminal convictions by state and federal prisoners, and civil rights suits under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, (3) employment discrimination cases (4) immigration cases, and (5) social security appeals. There are also three specialized units within the office. The Jurisdiction Unit assists the court in the initial review of all appeals filed for the purpose of determining appellate jurisdiction. The Issue Tracking Unit serves to track and catalog relevant legal issues. The Motions Unit processes certain substantive motions, including those for in forma pauperis status, certificates of appealability for 28 U.S.C. §§ 2254 and 2255 appeals, transcripts at government expense, and motions to appoint, withdraw, and/or substitute counsel. Staff attorneys work in a highly collegial environment with other recent law school graduates and lawyers coming from judicial clerkships or private practice, as well as with more experienced supervisory staff attorneys and senior management. Employment with the office offers a generous benefits package, civil and criminal law experience at the federal court level, and an environment providing significant responsibility and challenge.

REQUIREMENTS: Applicants must possess a Juris Doctor from a law school accredited by the American Bar Association and have excellent academic credentials. They also must have superior analytical, research, and writing skills and be proficient in computer-assisted research and WordPerfect. Good communication and interpersonal skills are essential.

Staff attorney positions are for two-year terms subject to the availability of funds.

Position: Judicial Assistant to the Honorable Sandra S. Ikuta, U.S. Circuit Judge

Employer: U.S. Court of Appeals, Ninth Circuit (San Francisco, CA)

Contact: Human Resources

Contact Address: 95 7th Street San Francisco, California 94103 United States

Position Type: Post Grad (0-3),Post Grad (3-5),Post Grad 5+,Professional/Post Grad

Job Description: POSITION OVERVIEW

Judge Ikuta's chambers are located in the Richard H. Chambers federal courthouse in Pasadena. The judicial assistant (JA) is the only permanent staff member in the Judge's chambers, and will work closely with the Judge to ensure the office runs smoothly. The position requires both administrative and paralegal skills. Although the nature of the position may evolve over time, as presently conceptualized, it will involve approximately 70% administrative and 30% legal responsibilities. A successful candidate must have a pleasant and positive attitude and be able to work well in a small office environment with a diverse and frequently changing cadre of lawyers.

As the administrative office manager, the JA will have overall responsibility for running the office efficiently and assisting the Judge in completing a range of necessary administrative tasks. These administrative responsibilities include tracking the Judge's workload from the initial assignment of a case through its completion, preparing reports regarding the status of pending cases, helping the Judge manage her involvement with various judicial committees and special events, and maintaining office functionality (from getting the office heaters fixed to coordinating technical assistance with computer issues).

The JA is also responsible for the administrative aspects of preparing the Judge for calendar, which includes organizing calendar materials, uploading electronic case materials onto the Judge's iPad, acquiring court records, making travel arrangements, shipping materials, preparing expense reports, and maintaining the Judge's business bank account. Because the Judge wishes to streamline and automate these functions to the extent feasible, she welcomes suggestions and will work with the JA to implement more efficient approaches.

The paralegal/legal responsibilities for this job will evolve depending on the JA's interests and abilities. At a minimum, the JA will be responsible for proof reading orders and dispositions, assisting law clerks with bench book assembly, as well as conducting research related to court rules and procedures.

Position Type: Fellowship

Job Description: JANUARY–AUGUST 2013

The Women's Research & Education Institute (WREI) offers a fellowship program that places current or recent graduate students in the Washington, D.C. offices of Members of Congress and on House and Senate staffs. WREI Fellows work a minimum of 40 hours per week from January through August as legislative aides on public policy issues. Following a mandatory two-week orientation to Capitol Hill in January, Fellows meet once a week at issue seminars with women's advocates, activists, Congressional staff, researchers, and lobbyists. WREI expects to award at least five Fellowships for 2013.

Over the years, WREI Fellowships have been made possible by Johnson & Johnson, the Rapoport Family Foundation, Amgen, the ILGWU/21st Century Fund, General Mills, Avon, Betta, Emily and Martha Ehrenfeld, the Newcomb Institute of Tulane University and many others.

WREI Fellows receive a stipend of approximately $1,450 per month. An additional sum of up to $500 is provided for the purchase of health insurance with submission of a bill from a provider. WREI will also reimburse Fellows up to a maximum of $1,500 ($750 per semester) for the cost of tuition at their home institutions. Please note that WREI will not cover non-degree courses in Washington, DC, student fees, books, or non-tuition expenses. WREI is not responsible for funding transportation to and from Washington or for finding lodgings for students. It is up to the Fellow to make all arrangements for satisfying her institution's academic requirements.

PURPOSE

The program is designed to:

- Develop a cadre of talented women experienced in public policymaking at the national level;
- Encourage more effective participation by women policy formation at all levels of government;
- Examine how policies affect women and men differently and encourage the formulation of policy options that recognize the needs of all people;

- Promote activities that encourage the translation of research into policy;
- Raise awareness that national and international issues concerning women are interdependent;
- Increase understanding that those issues often defined as "women's issues" are, in fact, "human issues" of equal importance to men and women.

PROGRAM

Orientation and placement: An intensive two-week orientation program for all Fellows begins in early January 2013 in Washington, DC. Attendance at orientation is required for all Fellows with no exceptions. Following orientation, Fellows interview for House and Senate assignments. Fellows are generally placed in their Hill offices by late January; they work through August 2013. Weekly required meetings will continue through the course of the program. Fellows are granted a one-week vacation that can be taken at any time with approval of the Congressional office and notification to WREI.

WREI seeks diversity in its fellowship program and welcomes qualified applicants of any age, gender, race, religion, sexual orientation, experience, and academic field.

Applications must be received at WREI no later than June 15, 2012.

WREI WILL NOT ACCEPT FAXED APPLICATIONS OR CONSIDER ANY APPLICATION THAT ARRIVES LATER THAN FRIDAY, JUNE 15, 2012.

Position: Staff Attorney

Employer: American Civil Liberties Union - ACLUF Criminal Law Reform Project, New York (New York, NY)

Contact: Human Resources

Contact Address: 125 Broad Street, 18th Floor New York, New York 10004 United States

Fax: (831) 471-9676

Position Type: Post Grad 5+

Job Description: Career Opportunity: Staff Attorney [CLRP-10]

The American Civil Liberties Union Foundation (ACLU), founded in 1920 is a nationwide, nonprofit, nonpartisan organization, with more than 500,000 members dedicated to the principles of liberty and equality embodied in the U.S. Constitution. The Criminal Law Reform Project of the ACLU's National office in New York City seeks applicants for the full-time position of Staff Attorney.

OVERVIEW

The Criminal Law Reform Project seeks to end excessively harsh crime policies that result in mass incarceration and stand in the way of a just and equal society. The Project focuses its work at the "front end" of the criminal justice system, from an individual's first contact with law enforcement through to the sentencing phase, with an emphasis on ending our nation's punitive drug policies, which have failed to achieve public safety and health while putting unprecedented numbers of people behind bars and eroding constitutional rights. We fulfill our mission through strategic litigation and advocacy that promotes reform of the criminal justice system and drug laws in particular, reduces the number of people entering the system, and protects the constitutional rights of those in the system.

The Project's current priorities include: reducing reliance on incarceration, with a focus on decriminalizing drug offenses and shortening sentencing schemes overall; reducing racial disparity in the criminal justice system through challenging the selective enforcement of laws; and challenging police and prosecutorial misconduct and abuses of power. In addition to these core priorities, the Project also works in the following areas: enacting pre-arrest diversion and similar reforms that reduce entry into prisons and jails; reforming indigent defense services to ensure effective assistance of counsel for all defendants; reducing penalties not only by ending drug prohibition but also reducing penalties for other offenses; reducing the involvement and protecting the rights of juveniles in the criminal justice system; protecting emerging rights of the seriously-ill to use medical marijuana; halting the expansion of random drug testing programs in schools, the workplace, and for those applying for or enrolled in government programs; and addressing the criminal justice implications of emerging surveillance technologies.

The Project, formerly known as the Drug Law Reform Project, changed its name to reflect its evolution, expansion, and broader mandate to confront a wide range of criminal justice issues. The Project maintains an explicit – though by no means exclusive – focus on ending punitive drug policies in recognition of the fact that while our nation's drug policies have largely driven the crisis of over-incarceration in the U.S., drug laws are only one aspect of the criminal justice system in urgent need of reform.

The Project is part of the ACLU's Center for Justice, which also comprises the National Prison Project and the Capital Punishment Project. The Center seeks to transform the U.S. criminal justice system into one that views incarceration as an option of last - not first - resort; that is effective, fair, and free of racial bias; that rejects death as a legitimate form of punishment; and that is evidence-based rather than fear-based.

For more information, please visit: <http://www.aclu.org/criminal-law-reform>.

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Staff Attorney will report directly to the Director of the Project, and the selected candidate should be prepared to contribute to all aspects of the Project's litigation and non-litigation work, including:

- *Performing legal work including trial and appellate level litigation, possible criminal representation, discovery and motion practice, appellate briefs and arguments, legislative advocacy and policy analysis.
- *Creating multi-pronged strategies utilizing litigation and non-litigation policy advocacy and public education to further the Project's mission and goals.
- *Engaging in non-litigation advocacy in conjunction with legal strategies.
- *Collaborating with other criminal justice drug policy reform advocates and organizations.
- *Participating in public speaking opportunities, press interviews and presenting at conferences on relevant issues on the Project's behalf.
- *Supervising legal fellows and law students.

Applications will be accepted until position is filled.

This job description provides a general but not comprehensive list of the essential responsibilities and qualifications required. It does not represent a contract of employment. The ACLU reserves the right to change the job description and or posting at any time without advance notice.

The ACLU is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including, women, people of color, persons with disabilities, and lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender individuals.

The ACLU comprises two separate corporate entities, the American Civil Liberties Union and the ACLU Foundation. Both the American Civil Liberties Union and the ACLU Foundation are national organizations with the same overall mission, and share office space and employees. The ACLU has two separate corporate entities in order to do a broad range of work to protect civil liberties. This job posting refers collectively to the two organizations under the name "ACLU."

Salary: - The ACLU offers a generous and comprehensive compensation and benefits package, commensurate with experience and within parameters of ACLU compensation scale.

Position: Larry Frankel Legislative Fellowship (Harrisburg or Philadelphia, PA)

Employer: ACLU of Pennsylvania (Philadelphia, PA)

Contact: Andy Hoover

Contact Address: P.O. Box 11761

Harrisburg, Pennsylvania 17108 United States

Fax: (717) 236-6895

Email: hbginfo@aclupa.org

Position Type: Fellowship

Job Description: OUR MISSION

Founded in 1920, the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) is the nation's foremost guardian of liberty. We are a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization dedicated to defending and protecting our individual rights and personal freedoms.

Through advocacy, education, and litigation, our attorneys, advocates, and volunteers work to preserve and promote civil liberties, including the freedom of speech, the right to privacy, reproductive freedom, and equal treatment under the law. We stand in defense of the rights of women and minorities, workers, students, immigrants, gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender people, and others who have seen bias and bigotry threaten the rights afforded to all of us in this country by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

DESCRIPTION

The Frankel Fellow: ACLU-PA is seeking a law student, a graduate student, or a recent graduate from a law or graduate program for the 2012-13 academic year who is interested in spending approximately 15-20 hours per week defending freedom and advocating for justice for all via the legislative process. Potential tasks include assisting the legislative director with the following:

- Direct lobbying of state lawmakers and legislative staff
- Research on pending legislation
- Work with coalition partners to strategically advocate for civil liberties
- Write and design press releases, talking points memos, and other promotional materials
- Handle online tools, including the website, blog, Facebook, Twitter, and email listserv
- Organize public activity around legislative issues
- Other miscellaneous tasks that occur in a small, nonprofit office

LOCATION

This internship is available in our Harrisburg office or in our Philadelphia office. A fellow in the Philadelphia office must be willing to travel to Harrisburg during some legislative session days. Compensation for travel is available.

BENEFITS

The fellowship is offered on a volunteer basis. The most valuable benefit is the experience gained working in a nonprofit advocacy office, particularly in one small enough to enable interns to see their impact. Additionally, the ACLU-PA staff is happy to write recommendations and otherwise support its interns and fellows, whenever appropriate. Credit can be applied to course schedule when the student has successfully completed the necessary hours and work required. We are also willing to work with fellowship programs that provide compensation.

BACKGROUND

The Frankel Fellowship is named for the late Larry Frankel. Larry was the legislative director of the ACLU of Pennsylvania from 1992 to 2008 and was the organization's executive director from 1996 to 2001. Larry left a legacy of integrity and honesty in advocating for civil liberties, and his enthusiasm for this work included a desire to mentor young civil libertarians on how to effectively advocate.

Job Description: Fall 2012 Legal Fellowship Opportunity for Lawyers and Third-Year Law Students

OVERVIEW:

The American Civil Liberties Union of the Nation's Capital (ACLU-NCA) invites applications for a two year Tony Dunn Fellowship in Civil Liberties. This Fellowship is funded through the generosity of the Anthony Stewart Dunn Foundation, which supports civil liberties in the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia.

The American Civil Liberties Union is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization with affiliates in every state working to defend and expand the principles of liberty and equality embodied in the U.S. Constitution. The ACLU of the Nation's Capital defends the Bill of Rights in the District of Columbia through litigation, negotiation, lobbying, grass-roots organizing and public education. The litigation docket includes about 60 active cases in local and federal courts and agencies, chiefly concerned with First Amendment issues, police practices, open government, rights of gays and lesbians and other minorities, privacy rights, and due process rights in various contexts. Recent legislative concerns in the D.C. Council have included crafting an anti-bullying statute, reform of public nuisance criminal laws (such as "disorderly conduct") and improving police treatment of demonstrators; topics in earlier years have included open meetings and public records access, sex-offender registration, civilian police review, criminal sentencing reform, school prayer, juvenile curfews, DNA testing, and surveillance in various forms. The national ACLU remains engaged in the federal courts in Washington on issues of civil liberties and homeland security and the Fellow may be involved in some of these matters. Visit www.aclu-nca.org for descriptions of recent cases and advocacy.

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

The Dunn Fellow will work as part of the ACLU-NCA Legal Department. The Fellow will investigate and evaluate requests and correspond with those seeking ACLU legal help; provide legal research and analysis; develop theories to support new litigation projects; draft pleadings, affidavits, motions, and briefs; participate in discovery and trial practice; provide support and assistance to other ACLU affiliates and to volunteer attorneys; and supervise student interns. The Fellow also may be asked to engage in public speaking and attend meetings and/or conferences. The position requires a willingness to work beyond the eight hours of a normal work day, including evening and weekend meetings or other activities. During his or her time at the ACLU, the Fellow also will be expected to produce a scholarly paper of publishable quality on a civil liberties issue.

Application deadline: June 1, 2012.

The starting date is flexible.

The Clinical Fellow will work closely with the Policy Institute's director, participating in the Institute's policy initiatives. The Fellow also will participate in the development of course curriculum for the ChildLaw Policy and Legislation Clinic and may have the opportunity to participate in teaching and supervision of students involved in other childlaw classes. The Fellow will be encouraged to develop independent areas of interest, consistent with the mission of the ChildLaw Policy Institute.

Job Description: APTITUDE + FORTITUDE

Website: www.ohaganspencer.com

We are looking for experienced associates with large, active brains and powerful work ethics to join our national, regional and local litigation-oriented practice. At any one time, our associates are solving problems for our clients in products cases, commercial disputes, corporate governance quarrels, employment claims, intellectual property fights and partnership dissolutions, to name just some of the imbroglios in which our clients have found themselves. We offer the best of all worlds. We practice at the highest levels here and throughout the U.S. But we don't have the stifling, corporate feel of very large firms or the layers of bureaucracy and dead weight that can crush a young lawyer's spirit. Because we work hard and run a lean operation, we pay very well.
